“ I was sorry to here of the passing of your father, and our past neighbor on Clark St. He was a nice man and I remember him well, I am sorry, didn't realize Pat passed away in 2015.

Last summer a friend of ours, Charlie Wetzel passed away. I mention this because Charlie owned your house on Clark Street, and his memorial was at the house. It was very interesting to be inside that house again. It looked at lot different, yet the same. My husband John remembered the first time he met Vic. John had a 1961 or 62 Volkswagen Beetle that always had issues. 5 minutes after talking to Vic they were both under the car while Vic explained something to John.

Time passes by so quickly.

I am sincerely sorry for the families loss, you are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Dear Steve, Mike, Patty, Kathy and Tom,
So sorry to hear of your father's passing. He was a wonderful person and neighbor (Clark St). I will not be able to attend his wake or funeral. Your mom died while I was on one of my trips. I did not find out about her death until I returned three weeks later. Your parents were very nice people and I will keep them in my prayers.
Sincerely, Sue Rebenstorf

“ Our sincere condolence to the Senger Family. I have known your mom and dad for many years as their insurance agent. I first met your mother when she worked for Richard Imming. Then later when I became their agent and met your father. I know you have many fond memories of them as I do. Vic and Pat were one of my best clients.

Sorry to hear of his passing.

“ Having known Vic for nearly 60 of my 63 years, I could recount volumes of wonderful memories of this man who, as a neighbor and friend, was as close to being a second dad as anyone could be. As he and Pat raised a family of six kids, what was one more when it came to being included in family activities? They (the whole family) and especially Vic, always made me feel welcome, and included.

It was rare to see Vic without a smile on his face, and as I search my memory banks, I can't recall ever having heard a disparaging or discouraging word come out of his mouth. I always enjoyed his especially clever sense of humor, and that warming chuckle when he would tell a funny story. On my wedding day, 43 years ago, I was about to hit the shower, and get ready for the ceremony, when the phone rang. It was Vic. He congratulated me on my decision to wed, and on my choice for a bride. We recollected some of the things that had transpired over the prior years, and he offered a bit of very good, and fatherly advice. As the call was drawing to its conclusion, Vic said, in all seriousness, "Jeff, I want you to promise to do one thing for me before you go to church." He said, "You will never have the opportunity to do this favor for me again, so make sure that you do it. It won't take long." It was with a little concern that I wondered what favor, or request he would have of me only a couple of hours before my wedding, but holding Vic in such high regard, I thought to myself, "I really MUST grant his request." I trusted that he had my best interest at heart, so I told him that I would do whatever I could, and I asked what it was that he needed for me to do. Vic answered solemnly, "Before you shave, this morning, I want you to stand in front of the mirror . Just pause there for a moment, ...and take one long ...last look ...at a free man!" Then he let go with that signature chuckle that eased my jitters, and made the rest of the day easy.

Vic, my friend, may your soul rest in the peace that I believe it so richly deserves!
